ABHYUDAYA

As against the concept of modern education based on the system of knowledge and information transfer from the tutor to the taught, the ancient Indian education based its training on the principle of questioning, reasoning and wondering, thus enriching the student with self acquired knowledge. The guru was instrumental in channelizing this process. The Dance feature exactly showcases this system of GURUKULA, where the Shishya asks the Guru about the different sentiments and emotions human beings go through. The Guru enunciates that the eight sentiments need not be categorized as positives or negatives, but shall be stepping stones to understand human nature. Illustrations culled from the rich literary heritage of India to accentuate the point and the meaning, have been made the vehicle to traverse the path of finding this truth. Folk, Classic, Martial and theatrical dance forms of India have been employed as the grammar of communication. The show involves most of the students of the school in a spectacular performance enriched with rich music, costume, dance and mime.
